

HONOLULU, HAWAII TERRITORY, SUNDAY, JANUARY 9, 1910.

- "The Man Behind the Throne." -

BY JAMES T. STACKER.

"The best man that ever stood upon a throne is a fudge," is what many said Friday, but say of Charles E. Woodruff, one of the road department of the Territory? But who was far years ago, and with the two sovereigns who reigned before the death of Liliuokalani? And when there was anything doing between 1874 and 1891, in which the sovereigns were all interested, Charlie was never very far away from the edge of the spot. His reminiscences would be interesting if he would tell us he knows of these two administrations.

Mr. Wilson,

of Tappan Island,

recently

came from

Fea-

ing

ing